Junkers Plane Narrowly Escapes Disaster in Attempt to Take Air for Westward Venture

Newfoundland to New York the Bremen would reach New York at 2:40 a. m., but this was generally believed to be many hours before the plane could reasonably be expected to reach its landing field.

The naval officers, plotting the great circle course, reported that the distance from Dublin to St. Johns, N. F., is 2,048 miles, and that from St. Johns to New York is 1,130, or an approximate total of 3,178 miles from Baldonnel to Mitchell Field.

BREMEN EXPECTED IN NEW YORK THIS AFTERNOON

BALDONNEL (Irish Free State) April 12. (AP)—The Junkers monomotor Bremen, which was expected to land today for New York, supposedly was 1,400 miles west of Ireland and only 500 miles off Newfoundland at 1:30 p. m. tonight.

This was according to a special calculation made by the Associated Press by the Baldonnel air authorities.

They figured that Capt. Hermann Koehl, German ace, and Col. James Fitzmaurice, Irish aviator, copilot of the Bremen, should see the lights of Newfoundland at 5:30 a. m. Irish time, or 11:30 a. m. eastern American time, and they pictured these two in the cockpit giving the news to Baron Gunther Von Huenfeldt, promoter of the flight, who sits behind them in the cabin pumping oil for the motor.

NO FEARS FELT

The fact that the plane had not been reported since it cleared the west coast of Ireland two hours after the start caused no anxiety here, Baldonnel authorities were much pleased with weather conditions and were putting their faith in the powerful motor of the plane.

They said that if all goes well the flyers should be sighted on Long Island at 8:30 p. m., New York time, tomorrow. This, however, allows four hours for errors in navigation as the Bremen may land any time between 2:30 p. m. and 6:30 p. m.

The calculations were based on an average speed of ninety-five miles an hour. The weather charts indicated that through the day the plane had to buck a ten-mile wind but at the part of the Atlantic where they were supposed to be late evening the wind was twenty to twenty-five miles an hour on the surface and from thirty-five to forty miles an hour at a height of 2000 feet.

PERIL OF FLAMES

The slightest hitch in the operation of the two-wheeled truck under the Bremen's tail would send the plane off on her nose. And a spark would transform her into a flaming metal furnace, in which the flyers would be consumed.

During those flashing seconds, it seemed that Koehl was making a final effort. Then cheers echoed and the engine roared and the plane shot upward and the Bremen shot through the gap in the wall with the narrowest margin of safety.

MOTOR ONLY HOPE

The Bremen carries no life-saving apparatus and has neither life boats nor wireless aboard. The plane has no pontoons, and should it descend to the sea, experts say that as the metal construction provides practically no buoyancy, its whole fate rests on the roaring motor.

Col. Fitzmaurice, however, said to the Associated Press correspondent: "We are not afraid to come back here. I don't go to bed for fear of the stuff. We will fight back, but if we can't get through we will come home."

President Cosgrave, Gen. Owen O'Duffy, chief of the Civil Guard, and Gen. Dan Hogan, chief of staff of the army, were among the group of officials who from a point far out on the runway experienced the tense seconds of the Bremen's take-off.

Little ceremony marked the start of the plane, but there was one poignant moment as Col. Fitzmaurice, just before climbing into the plane, stepped over to a group of women and kissed his young wife good-by. They embraced and she turned from him in tears.

PETS LEFT TO BABY

Down in one corner of the air-drome, where Fitzmaurice has his residence as chief of the Free State Air Corps, there slept a little 8-year-old Irish colts, "Pat," who, at an earlier hour, had been kissed good-by and put to sleep again. Her father left her two new pups, an Alsatian pup named Bremen, which arrived at Baldonnel the

CAR PROPELLED LIKE SKYROCKET

New Type Auto Attains Speed of 62 Miles an Hour in Eight Seconds

FRANKFORT - ON - MAIN (Germany) April 12. (AP)—A new gas turbine machine was tested on the auto track near Rueselsheim today, using gas generated from the combustion power of the fuel with the object of propelling the machine on the rocket principle. A speed of sixty-two miles an hour was developed after eight seconds.

The gases formed a fiery, comet-like tail as the machine swept by. Some of the machine, which was invented by an engineer named Bander, the first step in the realization of the interplanetary rocket as visualized by the American, Dr. Robert H. Goddard.

wounded, their first thought was to save the little children, hundreds of them, who had been squirming and crying in the seats. They rushed them out of danger. One of the Alpinis was killed outright and at least six of the others were injured and removed to a hospital. One of the latter, listed as Pietro Hail, is believed to have since died. It is reported that he was related to the Pope.

Among the thirteen civilian dead was identified as Giuseppe Pollo. A brother and sister, Luigi and Rosina Rava, were killed, as well as several children.

KING VISITS VICTIMS

King George VI, accompanied by the Queen, proceeded with the inauguration of the fair. He then hastened to the hospital where the wounded were being treated. He personally visited the injured and expressed his sympathy for the victims.

Official theory that the attempt was not a military one, but a political one, was strengthened by a survey of the plane showed that none of the engines was started. The plane was slowly lowered to the ground by the nearest spot where the monarch would have been had the procession been moving on schedule.

A semi-official statement published tonight said:

"It is believed that the outrage was premeditated and that the base of the lamp-post was three feet high and contained a little electric light which could be opened easily with an old-fashioned watch key. It is thought the malfactors disguised themselves as children and opened this watch as though making repairs. They could readily have used the infernal machine inside the lamp-post and blown up the king. There was no other possible way of concealing the explosive inside the lamp-post."

VALENTINE GATHERS

Every national and municipal facility for running down the perpetrators has been set in motion. The secretary of the Fascist Federation issued a manifesto calling on members of the organization to observe calm and forbidding any act of revenge.

A throng estimated at 100,000 to 150,000 gathered the square before the Cathedral here to cheer King Victor Emmanuel. Ringing addresses of loyalty were delivered by Pietro Fossati, Minister of Public Instruction, and by Secretary Giampolo of the Milan Fascist Council.

COOLIDGE SENDS CONDOLENCE TO KING

Acting with the promptness of a general, he gave instructions for the capture of the perpetrators of the bombing and to prevent any escape from Italy. He also announced the dispatch of various inspectors-general of police from Rome to Milan.

The Premier sent warmest congratulations to King Victor Emmanuel on his escape from the bombing. The Queen and other members of the royal family were informed immediately of the outrage and the King's escape and his cool attitude in the face of the bomb attack.

proposing elimination of that portion of the bill. The proposal was rejected, 46 to 21, after two hours of vigorous debate during which Senator McNary, Republican, of Oregon, in charge of the bill, made an eloquent plea for enactment of the bill in the form of the representatives of farmers organizations had requested.

Before coming to the final vote on the bill itself, the Senate rejected, 46 to 21, a substitute by Senator McNary, Republican, of Oregon, which would have provided for a direct government subsidy up to $500,000 to meet losses sustained by farmers in marketing their surplus crops.

PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES

The five supporting this measure were Maine, Borah and Brookhart, Republicans, and Bayard and Eleanore Democrats. This vote came while a number of Senators were absent from the chamber and as they came straggling in several voices for the Brookhart proposal only to change their votes later after they discovered their error.

Senator McNary's action on the McNary-Haagen bill admittedly is playing a role in the prevention of Federal campaign, the chief point of interest for political observers was how the Presidential candidates lined up on the issue.

CLAN DEFENDED BY WITNESSES

Robbed Marchers Unarmed at Carnegie, They Say

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12. (AP)—Mrs. Margaret Swanson, who reduced forty pounds for one kiss, got a divorce from Andrew Swanson, auditor, today.

"He called me fatty all the time," said Mrs. Swanson, "so I dieted and dieted and lost forty pounds. But he still said I was too fat and went away to Los Angeles without giving me one kiss."

SUIT OF BANISHED KU KLUXERS DISMISSED BY COURT

Stephenson Discloses More Asserted Horrors

PITTSBURGH, April 12. (AP)—Numerous witnesses took the stand in Federal court here today and denied that members of the Ku Klux Klan were armed or stirred up trouble with citizens of Carnegie, Pa., on the night of a riot there in 1923, when one Klansman was killed.

The witnesses were called by the Klan after five former members testified their case. The suit of the "banished" Klansmen, who sought to have a receiver appointed in Carnegie, Pa., and an accounting of $15,000 collected in this State, was dismissed yesterday by Judge J. H. Thomson for lack of jurisdiction.

The Klan wants the court to enjoin the former Klansmen from collecting the money and award damages of $500,000, asserting they collected that amount without authorization.

Ray Bowser of New Kensington testified people lined along the route of the parading Klansmen sneered at them. John H. Conover, a resident of Washington, D. C., chief counsel for the Klan, asked Bowser as well as other witnesses whether the Klansmen carried any guns, clubs or other implements in Carnegie and the reply always was "no."

TELLS OF ATTACK

Another witness said citizens hurled bottles, clubs, coal and bricks into the ranks of the Klansmen. The Klansmen, it was brought out, were instructed not to speak to any persons outside of those in the parade.

Denial that Klansmen fired a cross and touched off a bomb on the lawn of St. Mary's Catholic Church at Kittanning, Pa., as testified to by a witness for the Klansmen, was made by Rev. W. W. Hall of Johnstown, Pa., a Klan lecturer in Pennsylvania.

"There was no such incident during a demonstration at Kittanning," he said.

Sections of a deposition by D. C. Stephenson, former Klan leader now serving a life sentence in Indiana for murder, were permitted to go into the record over objection by the Klan counsel.

STEPHENSON'S CHARGES

Stephenson's charge that Grand Dragons were instructed by Imperial Wizard Evans to follow his orders blindly and that if they failed to do so they would be arrested, punished and their characters attacked, was included.

Stephenson's allegation that the "black robe" gang was authorized by Evans and that this was the official role when Klansmen went on killing and whipping parties, especially in the South, was included.

Stephenson's allegation that the "purple robe" gang of Philadelphia, also known as the "death battalion," was headed by Charles Lewis and a man named Winter, was included.

Stephenson's testimony that after a riot in Perth Amboy, N. J., in 1924, Evans told him: "If the Klan can make it look as if we are being persecuted, it will help increase our membership," was included.

RADIO CURRENT BELIEVED TO HAVE CURED CANCER

Scientist Has Apparently Healed Infected Mice by Use of Electrical Oscillations

WASHINGTON, April 12. (P)—More than 100 white mice infected with cancer apparently have been cured by Dr. J. W. Schereschewsky of the United States Public Health Service, by application of radio waves of very high frequency generated by a radio.

Observations must be made over long periods before scientifically satisfactory conclusions can be drawn, Dr. Schereschewsky said.

FACE MUSCLES DECLARED LATE DEVELOPMENT OF VERTEBRATES

WASHINGTON, April 12. (P)—The muscular system which expands over the head and face, connecting with the mouth, eyes, nose and ears, is a "late" development of the vertebrate kingdom, Dr. Ernst Haeber of the Johns Hopkins University stated in a paper presented today before the American Society of Mammalogists.

Comparative anatomical investigations reveal that these muscles, which appear only in mammals, have evolved from a primitive foundation in the neck region, he said, and must have been inherited from reptile-like ancestors. They have been specialized relatively recently in the various mammalian groups, he added, to different degrees and along very different lines to meet the requirements of manifold environments.

In the carnivorous marine mammals, including the sea lions and seals, a muscular mechanism was developed to enable them to keep the nostrils and ear tube closed and water-free while diving, but leaving them able to hear air-borne sounds on emergence, he observed, while in the whale which long ago lost the power of hearing which sounds the ear muscles persist only in a rudimentary stage.

He found the most conspicuous example of specialized development in the muscular system connected with the blow hole of the whale, which has puzzled investigators for more than a century and is not yet fully understood.

The lethal effects of different cycles, which ranged from 135,000,000 to 2,500,000.

Nevertheless, he has been able to amass a great deal of data on the subject, and to evolve a reasonably successful technique in the application of the currents to the mice, so they can survive the treatment. He is still engaged on that and other problems developed during the investigation.

Radio His Hobby

Pursuit of a hobby, radio, with the scientific thoroughness which has characterized his career in the Public Health Service, has been a vital factor in directing the trend of Dr. Schereschewsky's research here, which has been conducted with the co-operation of Harvard scientists.

The son of an Episcopalian missionary to China who rose to a bishopric in his adopted church, Dr. Schereschewsky is noted among scientific colleagues for an exceptionally retentive memory and a broad scope of interests. These not only human diseases and hygiene, but electrical engineering, to which he had been attracted before he began his attempts to solve some of the mysteries of radio.

STUDIES CANCER

After completing a term of four years in charge of the research activities of the Public Health Service at Washington, he was relieved of that duty about six years ago in accordance with the policy of rotating officers in various lines of work. With the approval of Surgeon-General Cummings, he elected to undertake a special study of cancer.

He had already tackled many intricate problems, including various infectious diseases, such as diphtheria and trachoma, and several phases of industrial hygiene.

Castling about for an untried angle of approach to the cancer problem, it occurred to him that high-frequency oscillating electrical currents had not been tried and might be effective. He thereupon set about the study of the physiological effects of such currents on white mice, which are particularly susceptible to what is known as rat, or mouse, cancer.

MEETS MANY OBSTACLES

All sorts of difficulties beset his work. When he would get together enough mice to begin his experiments an epidemic would wipe out great numbers of them and he would have to start all over again. Even after he got the work under way, many mice died when subjected to various frequencies, making necessary an intricate study of

Gerard to Seek Cavell Film Ban

NEW YORK, April 12. (P)—James W. Gerard, former Ambassador to Germany, plans to take steps to prevent the showing in this country of the British film "Dawn," depicting the trial and execution of Edith Cavell in Belgium.

The film has been approved by the Motion Picture Division of the Department of Education.

Mr. Gerard said he will seek an injunction to prevent the showing of the picture, believing it to be inimical to the best relations between this country and Germany. Showing of the picture in England was forbidden due to a protest by the German authorities.

CHANDLER HAILS MOTOR CARAVAN

All-Year Cars Pull in at Arizona Resort

Community Leaders Join in Memphis Trip

Travelers Everywhere Met With Enthusiasm

BY A. F. FARMINGTON

These Star Correspondents

CHANDLER (Ariz.) April 12. (Exclusive)—Completing its second day on the way to Memphis, the All-Year National Highway Motorcade cars formed a long line driving into this little resort town in Arizona just preceding dinner tonight, leaving a day of enthusiastic receptions behind them. The motorcade has covered 203 miles of the 1830 to be driven. An escort met the cars fifty miles out of town at Yuma.

Cars began joining the procession at every town, large and small, along the route. Chambers of commerce, civic clubs, public spirited citizens, the sending machines with representatives to the convention to be held in Memphis the 20th and 21st inst.

The motorcade split at El Centro last night, half the cars going ahead to Yuma, where a half-holiday was declared by the Mayor this morning in honor of the highway motorcade, whose purpose, when accomplished, means a great deal to that border town, as is true for all towns along the route and more to Southern California, which is the terminus for a greater proportion of the motorcade who are using this route in their transcontinental travel. Yuma added three cars to the motorcade.

LEADERS JOIN TRIP

An example of the extent to which towns along the route are supporting the movement to improve and completely pave the all-year highway is found here in Chandler. Joining the motorcade are the leading citizens of the city. They are the president of the Chamber of Commerce, and the secretary of the organization, its Mayor, who is also publisher of the paper, and A. J. Chandler, developer of the community.

Gila Bend, little more than a spot in the Arizona desert, turned out its entire citizenry and, literally, the motorcade to serve cold drinks and extend a welcome and good wishes.

Chandler last night added several representatives to the caravan. The Mayor, representing the Rotarians there, the Mayor, Chief of Police and Chamber of Commerce secretary became members of the motor party.

The day has been spent crossing the desert largely following the River, where the desert flower, palo verde trees and mesquite are in bloom, a sample of which is in store every spring for travelers of the All-Year.

PROGRAM REJECTED

Chandler has repeated the program of El Centro and Yuma last night, giving a banquet at the El Centro Hotel, with Col. Ed Fletcher, leader of the caravan and vice-president of the Broadway of American Association, again being the principal speaker. Col. Fletcher told of the organization of the association, its purpose to form a permanent organization to foster the development and paving of the route from Broadway, New York, to Broadway, San Diego.

Phoenix was visited this afternoon for fifteen minutes while the cars paraded through the main streets of the town under motorcycle escort and before the lenses of news reel and newspaper cameras. Additional cars joined from Phoenix.

Tomorrow, the third out of San Diego, the schedule calls for the party to proceed to Douglas and El Paso, the cars being divided between the two cities for the night. There are now too many people in the motorcade to be accommodated in one of the towns.

The good-will caravan was met traveling in opposite directions by the motorcade yesterday shortly after leaving Yuma. It consisted of thirteen riders of White motorcycles, all members of the Mexico City police, who are making a tour of the nation with special permission from the Federal government. They are to stop in Calexico tonight and leave in Los Angeles tomorrow night.

ACCIDENTS INCREASE IN STATE INDUSTRIES

MICHIGAN'S RISE FROM 500 TO 800 A DAY WITH DEATH TOTAL STATIONARY

SACRAMENTO, April 12. (P)—Industrial accidents in California have increased from 500 to 800 a day during the last four years, and will, J. French, State Director of Industrial Relations, now predicts it will not be long before the toll reaches 1000 a day. Those vitally interested in accident prevention are becoming alarmed over the rapidly with which the number of accidents is increasing.

California's rapidly increasing population was held to be the foremost reason for the increase in injuries, as more workers have been thrown into industry, which also has been widely extended during recent years. An apparent lesson of safety activities also has contributed to the gain.

However, two features of note are held out by Mr. French to offset the gloom of the injury increase. One that the industrial death total has held fairly stationary during all the years, despite the population and injury increase, and the other that the severity of injuries has declined.

OFFICERS BESIEGE WITNESS

Woman Teacher Wanted in New York Census Case Hides from Subpoena

ALBANY (N. Y.) April 12. (P)—Activities of the special grand jury investigating Mrs. Florence E. Knapp's conduct of the 1925 State census were overshadowed today by a virtual siege in progress at Middlebury, Vt., in an effort to subpoena Clara Blanche Knapp, step-daughter of the former Secretary of State.

Miss Knapp, who is a faculty member of Middlebury College, during 1925 and 1926 was listed on the census pay roll, although testimony and census records showed that she apparently had done no work. Some checks totaling $5,381.55 were issued to her.

Since Tuesday morning Miss Knapp has been in her room in a dormitory of the college, while for the greater part of the time the Sheriff of Addison county and two deputies have patrolled the grounds outside waiting to serve her with summons to appear in Albany. Reports from investigators of the New York State Department of Law, now in Middlebury, are that the officers had been refused entry to the top floor of the dormitory, where Miss Knapp's room is located.

MEXICO LAND LAW Policy to Stand

MEXICO CITY, April 12. (P)—Answering reports that the Mexican agrarian law would be modified Jose Parrey, Undersecretary of State for Agriculture, is quoted by El Universal as saying that at present no plans are contemplated to amend the regulation.

Recent reports have said that no hands would be asked in the future without cash indemnity. There have been no seizures of land for division recently reported.

DRAMATIC CAREER RECALLED BY DEATH

VIBALIAN'S RISE TO WEALTH STARTED BY TOIL IN ARIZONA MINES

GLOBE (Ariz.) April 12. (Exclusive)—John E. Newman, who died recently in Visalia, Cal., for years was known here as "Black Jack." Then bearing a different name and speaking no English, he came to Clifton, about 1922, from Austria. Starting as a miner, later transferring his activities to Globe, Miami and Superior, he became one of the wealthiest mining operators of the Southwest.

California's rapidly increasing population was held to be the foremost reason for the increase in injuries, as more workers have been thrown into industry, which also has been widely extended during recent years. An apparent lesson of safety activities also has contributed to the gain.

However, two features of note are held out by Mr. French to offset the gloom of the injury increase. One that the industrial death total has held fairly stationary during all the years, despite the population and injury increase, and the other that the severity of injuries has declined.

STURZENEGGER

The Bruins can play ball and are still hot from a 3-0 victory over the miserable Trojans. They topped the title a year ago and now try to repeat.

The Bruins have a less-impressive past. But they hope for the best during the current season. Their chief hope is to carry the Bruins into the ability of their chairman to be the home team's slugging priviledge. If Graham, Griffith and Ward can do some high-class slugging during the season, they will be able to carry Mary's, but all three of the out-standers will be kicked.

If these chuckers can't keep the scattered, Sturgis will call for a second stringers, Pecorelli, Smith and Duffy, to do duty on the bench.

But the Bruin coach thinks he is a world of possibility, and that he may live up to expectations. The first great guns as a freshman last spring.

Contrary to prevailing reports, the Bruins should be able to keep pace with the enemy sluggers. Sturdy's argument has a little difficulty in noting safe seats in the second infield game and many dopsters are quick to say that the Bruins are weak with the willow.

MEXICO REBELS LED BY WOMAN

Assumes Title of Colonel and Raids Ranches

Nuns' Hospital at Vera Cruz Closed by Government

Priest Faces Firing Squad as Revolt Chief

MEXICO CITY, April 12. (AP)—A dispatch to El Universal today says that a woman named Agrupina, conferred upon herself the title of colonel, and, followed by 150 men, took the field against the government in the district of Colon, State of Queretaro.

Agrupina, anxious to turn her forces from infantry into cavalry, attacked Los Lobos ranch and seized thirty horses. She marched toward Guanajuato and from there it is reported that she is threatening a ranch at Chilchiquillas.

Troops have been rushed after the bellows Agrupina.

Special dispatches from Vera Cruz say that the Asilo Veracruzano, a hospital conducted by Spanish nuns, has been closed by orders from the Department of Interior, leading to the filing of a petition for a restraining order by the Spanish Consul.

An amparo, or injunction, was granted provisionally pending an investigation. The Spanish Consul contended to the District Court that the nuns conducted the hospital on a charity basis.

PRIEST EXECUTED BY FIRING SQUAD

MEXICO CITY, April 12. (Continued)—Aristo Pedroma, a priest said to have been a leader in the revolt movement in Los Altos (State of Jalisco) region, and who was captured recently by Federal forces, has been executed by a firing squad, according to information received here today. Pedroma is said to have terrorized small villages and ranches for some time and had been regarded as the supreme leader of the rebel movement in the district. Federal forces found him hiding in a cave with a man said to have been his private secretary. Both were tried by a court-martial and were executed summarily.

JOVE'S THUNDERS STOLEN

Wild Lightning to Be Outwitted by Domestic Variety Invented by Electrical Expert

PITTSFIELD (Mass.) April 12. (AP)—Domesticated lightning is teaching electrical engineers how to outwit the wild variety. With made-to-order flashes of 2,000,000 volts—the highest voltage ever attained by man—experts at the General Electric Company's plant here are experimenting with more efficient devices to protect life and property against natural lightning.

So successful are the tests proving that power plants of the near future seldom will be forced to suspend service and make expensive repairs because of the wanton pranks of this uncontrolled electricity.

EXACT MINIATURES

The artificial bolts prepared and used in the laboratory are exact miniatures of the 200,000,000-volt flashes that nature generates in cloudland. Made in huge transformers and condensers corresponding to the clouds, which are the nurseries of wild lightning, these obedient servants of an engineer's will sputter and crackle, flash and fork with realism that makes their creation a thrilling spectacle.

F. W. Peek, Jr., is the man who has thus stolen some of Jove's thunder. Seven years ago Peek built up the then unprecedented force of 1,500,000 volts. He recently announced that this figure had been more than tripled. Larger artificial voltages are possible, but the expense is too great.

Pratt Girl Gets Wealthy Home

DES MOINES (Iowa) April 12. (AP)—Roberta Jane Pratt, the 8-year-old girl who was taken from the custody of Mr. and Mrs. Everett T. Pratt of Des Moines by a New York court after the child had presented in court charges of cruelty against the couple, was adopted formally yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson K. Barnet, wealthy residents of Bronxville, N. Y.

Her adoption came about a year after Roberta told the court that the Pratts had beaten her in a New York hotel and burned her with an iron. The Pratts were exonerated of the charges, but the court removed the girl from their custody.

JAPAN ARRESTS RED STUDENTS

Drive Against Communism Continues in Tokio

More Than Thousand Taken During Last Month

Efforts to Unseat Monarchy Believed Smothered

TOKIO, April 12. (AP)—Continuing the drive against Communism, the authorities today arrested more suspects, including several students. Further arrests are expected.

With more than 1000 arrested Reds arrested in Japan during the past month, the government is believed to have the situation well in hand. No difficulties are expected at present, although the police are watching all suspects closely.

FEW CONVICTIONS EXPECTED

About 600 or 500 of those under arrest will be charged with violating the peace. Few convictions are expected, however, because the government acted largely on suspicion. The evidence was found principally in circulars issued during the recent general election by the Proletarian left. This was considered chiefly less majestic because the overthrow of the monarchy and the setting up of a workers' government was advocated.

The circulars stated: "Parliament is nothing more than an organ to cheat the people. We must, therefore, form our own parliament of laborers, farmers and the poorer classes."

CIRCULARS CAUSE ARRESTS

"We must expose the crimes of capitalists and landowners."

"Our demands are: Wholesale revision of the election laws, abolition of laws aimed at the oppression of proletarians, opposition to war of imperialism, abolition of the monarchy."

These circulars broadcast throughout the country caused the investigation and arrests.

In the election two radical members of the Proletarian party obtained seats in the Diet. It is understood an attempt will be made to unseat them in the coming session.

Action Against Levine Settled
WASHINGTON, April 12. (AP)—The government's case against Charles A. Levine, trans-Atlantic flyer, over war contracts, has been settled out of court.

The government had charged that Levine owed approximately $600,000 in connection with the sale of surplus war material, but the case was settled for about $150,000.

The case against Levine grew out of a war-material transaction contract in which the War Department turned over a large quantity of ammunition salvaged to Levine to be sold on a percentage basis. One phase of the case hinged on whether Levine or the government should pay the freight on the shipment of the material.

Right to Sue in Annexing Given
SACRAMENTO, April 12. (Exclusive)—Atty.-Gen. Webb today granted to S. H. and Cora V. Winchell of Los Angeles permission to sue the city of Los Angeles to determine the validity of the attempted annexation to the city of the Winchell addition.

The permission was granted on the condition that no rights of the city are prejudiced by the action.

CITY LIFE RESULTS IN CONSTIPATION
Science Says 90% of Modern City People are Sufferers

Constipation is a real danger. You may suffer without knowing the cause—even if your bowel movements are regular they may not be complete, and the same decayed material found in cases of irregularity may be present in your system, poisoning you slowly.

Headaches, lassitude, loss of vitality, shallow checks, nervousness, and increased susceptibility to serious disease which may result in premature disability or death—this is the price of intestinal poisoning. Don't take chances with it!

Soft life and soft diet cause the trouble. Add roughage to your diet—it protects primitive man, and it will protect you. Don't form the dangerous laxative habit—the natural way is best. Add true 100% bran—Pillsbury's Health Bran—to your diet. It is the best source of the bulk and roughage which is so vital to your health.

Warning—be sure you get the right bran. When your doctor says, "Eat bran," he means a true 100% bran—Pillsbury's Health Bran. Because it is unwatered, uncooked, and unadorned, it really does the work you get the full, gentle, natural laxative action of the unbroken flake. Use it to prepare delicious foods—muffins, tea cakes, apple cake, macaroons, doughnuts, etc.—recipies are on every package. Eat it some way three times a day.

A Southern California Institution

SEATTLE hub of a famous Vacation Land!

SEATTLE is a friendly, youthful, vigorous city, centrally located in a variable summer wonderland. Within easy access you will find every vacation enjoyment, and countless places of scenic beauty and interest.

Fifty years ago an isolated "lumber town"; today a magnificent metropolis, gateway to the Orient and Alaska, crowding the half million mark—the industrial, commercial, shipping, financial and distributing center of the Empire of the Pacific Northwest.

Seattle is blessed with one of the world's greatest water supplies and its present reservoir system in the nearby mountain watersheds has storage for a city double Seattle's present size. Only one other American city has as low a water rate. This abundant and virtually unlimited water supply insures adequate and cheap power, a factor in Seattle's remarkable industrial growth.

In an hour, by ferry or stage, boat or rail, you can be on wooded island shores or in forest depths—in a few hours, in the heart of the mountains. You may cross to Bremerton and on to the Olympic Peninsula, Lake Crescent, and the surf at Moss. Or, up through Snoqualmie Pass and the Cascades to Lakes Kachess and Ketchikan. East, west, north, south—there's a vacation country everywhere.

Seven hospitable cities will welcome you to the Evergreen Playground. Helpful bureaus of Longview, Tacoma, Seattle, Everett, Bellingham, Victoria and Vancouver, B. C., will assist you in your vacation plans. They will tell you how best to see Longview, with its great lumber mills and industries; Rainier National Park, Hood Canal, Snoqualmie Pass, Monte Cristo, Big Four, San Juan Islands, Mt. Baker National Forest Park, Vancouver Island, Butchart Gardens, Grouse Mountain, Harrison Hot Springs, and a hundred other places of scenic fame.

Come North this summer to the Evergreen Playground of Puget Sound and British Columbia... See ALL of the Pacific Coast!

If you are going East, ask your ticket agent to route you one way via "The Evergreen Playground." From California the through rate by steamer here, and then eastbound, is the same as your direct rail fare East. The all-rail trip via the northern lines is only slightly higher.

Our free illustrated booklet, "The Evergreen Playground," will assist you in planning your trip and vacation "Under Two Flags" more easily. Mail the coupon today!

Step into the 1929 Automobile

In Port Today

This day of April, 1928, Reo announces the 1929 Flying Clouds.

Reo can give you 1929 automobiles in the heart of the 1928 season for a very, very simple reason.

Reo is an independent organization and a producer of only a moderate number of cars. Refinements, changes, new ideas can be put into and through production faster than in the huge immobile plants from which come most of America's automobiles.

Reo blue prints can materialize into Reo cars many, many months sooner than do those of other reputable automobiles.

As a result, the New Reo Flying Clouds give you today what other cars may try to give you one year from today—in 1929.

The New Flying Clouds give you today a new fleetness, for one mile or one hundred, that will still be the envy of many cars—in 1929.

The New Flying Clouds give you today the ability to sweep from zero miles per hour to what you will, faster than many cars will do—even in 1929.

The New Flying Clouds give you today the agility in traffic, and steering ease that other cars will try to develop—for 1929.

The New Flying Clouds give you today distinctive new lines, sweepingly simple lines, that some other manufacturer may imitate—by 1929.

The New Flying Clouds give you today luxurious interiors that someone else may copy—for 1929.

The New Flying Clouds give you today the riding ease that many cars will strive to have—for 1929.

The New Flying Clouds give you today the four-wheel internal expanding (not external contracting) hydraulic brakes that safety demands may force many other cars to adopt—in 1929.

These things can be yours in April, 1928, in the New Flying Clouds, for the very simple reason that Reo blue prints become Reo automobiles many months sooner than do those of other reputable cars.

Step into the 1929 automobile—the New Flying Cloud—and try it out yourself.

HOOVER SWEEPCommittee Says Needed
Votes in SightCalifornia Democrats Want
Smith, He ThinksState Safe for Republicans in Any Case

WASHINGTON, April 12. (AP)—Predicting a clean sweep in Pacific Coast States for Herbert Hoover in the contest for Republican convention delegates, William H. Crocker, a Republican national committee member from California, said here today that he is convinced Gov. Smith of New York will win in the California Democratic primary on May 1, next.

Crocker said Hoover is encountering no opposition in California, Oregon and Washington, and, in addition to a solid line-up from those States will have practically all delegates from adjoining ones. He said the Commerce Secretary, on figures he has computed, has 235 delegate votes in state, which is at least 124 more in reserve. To win the nomination he must have 545 votes.

Commenting on the three-cornered Democratic contest in California, Crocker said there is no doubt as to the popularity of Gov. Smith. Senator Walsh of Montana, he said, is too little known to get wide support, and he is of the opinion that Senator Reed of Missouri, on his recent speech-making trip through the State, failed to make an impression that will give him delegates.

Regardless of who is nominated by the Republicans and Democrats for President, Crocker said California will be in the Republican column in November.

NEW YORK REPUBLICANS
REORGANIZE MACHINERY

NEW YORK, April 12. (Exclusive)—An unexpected and important revision of the machinery of the Republican party in New York State was effected at the reorganization meeting of the Republican State committee today at the National Republican Club.

The State executive committee, of which Charles D. Hiles was chairman, was abolished and absorbed in a new and larger advisory council, designed primarily to keep the county leaders up-to-date in closer touch with party affairs.

The abolition of the executive committee is regarded in some quarters as a subtraction of power from Hiles, since there will be no chairman of the new advisory council. George K. Morris as State Republican chairman, will preside over its deliberations de facto.

Some persons also sought to read into the reorganization with its abandonment of Mr. Hiles' chairmanship a shifting of power due to the pre-convention campaign of Republican Presidential aspirant, since Mr. Hiles has been a hold-out for the reorganization of President Coolidge. While steadfastly refusing to announce a second choice, he has been counted in opposition to Herbert Hoover.

NORRIS LOSES EIGHT
NEBRASKA DELEGATES

OMAHA, April 12. (Exclusive)—Confident before the primary of carrying its entire state, the Norris wing of the Republican party in Nebraska was able to capture only eleven of the nineteen delegates to the national convention. The tickets headed by former Gov. Samuel R. McKelvie won six places on the delegation, returns from Tuesday's election show, while the second district elected two delegates not aligned with Norris.

Officers of the Lincoln Heights club are Thomas M. Mercer, president; William M. Byrne, Alvin Anderson, C. N. Wadsworth and Frank M. Smith, vice-presidents; and Roy C. Teal, secretary.

Headquarters probably will be opened by the other campaign clubs. A series of meetings is contemplated for each in addition to other endeavors.

R. L. McNitt is president of the Eagle Rock club, the other officers being L. B. Wilson, vice-president, and O. R. Angellio, Earl O. Sline, Victor H. Lamber, Mrs. G. Naylor, Miss Fanny Bailey, Mrs. E. W. Thompson, Charles L. Wadsworth and Mrs. J. P. Jacobsen, directors.

Officers of the Highland Park club are William J. O'Brien, president; Charles E. McDowell, vice-president; Alvin Elliot, J. H. Hollinshead, Mrs. Margaret A. Schneider, Dr. Roy D. Kohl, R. M. McCabe and Mrs. Sarah R. Blackburn, directors.

Tennant Harrington, banker, has been named to head the Colusa county club.

Los Angeles enterprise in establishing a fleet of liners between this city and Honolulu was praised at yesterday's session of the City Council by Supervisor John A. Hughes of Honolulu. He said that Honolulu is governed by a Mayor and a Board of Supervisors of seven members, and that the city government has an annual budget of $2,000,000.

The two delegates of the Territory of Hawaii to the Republican National Convention will be strong for the nomination of Herbert Hoover for President.

Superintendent Hughes visited Washington with a letter to President Coolidge from Gov. Farrington of Hawaii. The supervisor is visiting his son, Attorney Jerome Hughes, here.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12. (Exclusive)—Northern California Republicans backing the campaign of Herbert Hoover for the Presidential nomination at Kansas City in June through the medium of a pledged delegation from the California May 1 primary will gather here the 26th inst. in another major rally similar to that held in Los Angeles a week ago. It will be the final gathering of the entire Republican strength north of the Tehachapi and arrangements nearing completion promise the greatest political turnout ever seen here.

Plans are going forward under the personal supervision of Marshal Hale, chairman of the Hoover campaign committee in the northern part of the State.

The meeting was announced as a complimentary testimonial to the twenty-nine Hoover delegates whose names appear on the Republican primary ballot. Under the leadership of C. C. Teague, chairman of the Hoover campaign committee in the south, a large delegation is being recruited in Southern California for the meeting.

Invitations are being extended to various civic groups throughout the northern sections of the State and representatives will be received at Hoover headquarters in the Crocker-Building here.

Mark L. Regua, confidant of Hoover and one of the Hoover delegates from California, left tonight for the East, where he has been called to sit in the executive committee of the Hoover managers during the next few weeks.

Regua expects to make a flying trip into several eastern States in the interest of the Commerce Secretary's candidacy.

"The job to do in California has been well done," declared Regua. "There is much yet to be accomplished here, but I have every confidence that California will give Hoover a vote at the primary election that will be a notice to country-at-large of the earnestness of the people here in this matter."

"We have all elements of the Republican party in California working to only one end, and that is to send the Hoover delegates to Kansas City convention with the largest vote ever given a Presidential candidate. California is essentially a strong Republican State."

The property of our economic life rests on Republican principles.

"Herbert Hoover is the personification of these principles. Time and time again he has proved himself to be an agricultural, industrial, farmer, fruit grower and others. The country needs a continuation of Coolidge policies and prosperity and there is no one in our national life so suited to do this as Herbert Hoover."

From all sections of the country the Hoover movement is making remarkable progress, according to Regua.

"It looks like Hoover in the early balloting of these principles. Time and time again he has proved himself to be an agricultural, industrial, farmer, fruit grower and others. The country needs a continuation of Coolidge policies and prosperity and there is no one in our national life so suited to do this as Herbert Hoover."

Formation of a county-wide Hoover club in Colusa county was reported to Northern California headquarters today and word was received that Tehama county is in process of completing a network of similar clubs.

Tennant Harrington, banker, has been named to head the Colusa county club.

on Question Weighed

Los Angeles Steamship Association has taken open issue with the Harbor Commission's proposal to increase port charges, and has asserted its stand in a letter being sent the shipping and trade interests which have received questionnaires from the commission. The asserted purpose of the letter is to present a full and complete picture of the situation, and to point out the many objections to the proposed increase.

The letter is not convinced that there is need of increased revenue at this time, the committee asserts, and further, "we are firmly of the opinion the retirement of harbor bonds should not be met from harbor revenues."

Meritorious as will be the efforts of the city to raise revenue, the letter states, it is not reasonable, the letter recites, to expect earnings to retire such costs. "It is logical or wise, therefore, to attempt in one case what is manifestly impossible in the other."

The harbor is credited as one of the greatest factors in developing the southwest, bringing industries with added pay rolls, enhancing realty values, steamship and kindred companies in great measure have done this, done it, the letter asserts, in the face of extra costs because the port is located twenty-five miles away, necessitating double organizations and increased overhead. Yet, there isn't a harbor in the country who is not reaping the benefit of low cost of goods through low transportation costs by water."

The port is declared yet in its infancy, its material growth reaching back only six years when its revenues first topped the $1,000,000 mark. "Since 1929 earnings have increased approximately $200,000 per year; last year receipts were $1,877,239."

"It is not reasonable to suppose that unless additional burdens as proposed are placed on traffic, the growth will continue in the same way, and sooner or later the port will be forced to raise rates to meet the needs of the community."

The Harbor Board advises that the country needs a continuation of Coolidge policies and prosperity and there is no one in our national life so suited to do this as Herbert Hoover."

DANDRUFF

Not until the last vestige of dandruff is gone, can be considered a fastidious person, acceptable social.

Get rid of it . . . quickly . . . and pleasantly

Dandruff in the hair or on the clothing gives you away—stamps you as a careless person, and makes you repellent to others.

Why not get rid of it by shampooing with Listerine, the safe anti-septic which has helped so many?

Listerine rids your scalp of excess dandruff at once, and if employed systematically, will often completely cure the condition that makes loose dandruff possible. That is easy to understand when you realize that dandruff is a germ disease and that Listerine's job is to combat germs.

You simply douse Listerine full strength on the scalp and massage vigorously, keeping the treatment up several days. This is important. From the outset, you will be conscious of a marvelously cool, clean and healthy sensation of the scalp, and within a few days you will note that dandruff is disappearing.

If you have any evidence of dandruff, don't delay treatment. Let Listerine check this humiliating condition before it becomes serious.

Six companies were dissolved and thirteen others eliminated through sale to a parent corporation. An extensive construction program added many improvements to the company's system, the report states.

Libby-McNeill Profits Show Drop for Year

Net earnings available for preferred dividends of Libby, McNeill & Libby for the year ended December 31, last, amounted to $1,775,376, equivalent to $9.89 a share, as compared with $2,825,263 in 1934, or $13.29 a share, a decrease of 25 per cent, according to the annual report of the company issued yesterday.

After preferred dividends of $1,380,000, surplus account was increased $318,376.70, leaving a balance at the close of the year of $4,672,862.28 after writing off discount and premiums paid on the retirement of the 7 per cent bonds.

E. K. McDonald, president, attributes the decline in earnings to the reduction in prices experienced throughout the industry during the year. Earnings competition is largely responsible for the cut, and the overproduction of the California peach crop was a contributing factor.

During the year new factories were built at Portland, Or., and Santa Clara, Cal. The company acquired and improved a plant at Patterson, Cal.

Finance House to Change Name

The company was organized three years ago for the exclusive handling of real estate, securing, including municipal, corporation and foreign bonds as well as investment stocks. As a result of the new management, the company will be provided with additional service facilities for the handling of their investment securities, it was declared.

BANK RUMORS STIR STREET

Stocks Slump on Reports Negotiations Dropped for Merger; Holding Unit Idea Gains Favor

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Spring street was disturbed yesterday over reports that negotiations for the consolidation of the Merchants' National and the California banks had been dropped. Selling orders on both stocks came into the market in large volume, California selling off 18 and Merchants' 8 1/2 points.

Nothing officially has ever come from either bank to indicate the existence of negotiations. The speculators in bank shares have preferred, nevertheless, to look with doubt on the details and noncommittal statements coming from the two banks, and have energetically bid the price up to lofty levels. Even as late as Wednesday afternoon, after the close of the market, brokers were bidding on the street for both stocks at prices higher than the close on the stock exchange.

NET INCOME OF SINCLAIR OIL SLUMPS

Annual Report Reveals $12,256,951 Decrease from 1926 Figures

NEW YORK, April 12. (AP)—This week's tightening pressure for credit, manifest in call money's advance to the highest level since 1926, raises the question whether a change in the discount rate is imminent.

Wall Street frankly does not know whether the present 4 per cent rate will be allowed to stand or one of 4 1/2 or 5 per cent substituted, but the arguments for and against an increase soon now are being advanced by those who understand how sensitive the stock market sometimes is to a change.

Uppermost among the suggestions that the Federal Reserve System might move the rate up is the unprecedented expansion in bank credit, most of which has gone into the market. After reaching a peak early in 1934, the volume of credits fell sharply for nearly two months but now it is heavier than ever. Member bank earnings also have attained a new high. $20,000,000 above a year ago, and were still climbing last week.

What concerns the Federal Reserve System which was organized as a guardian over business, is-let it be repeated—that most of these new credits have gone into the market. Except for a $20,000,000 increase from a year ago in commercial loans, the growth of the reserve system has been in securities and investments. This inelastic application of funds—and here comes the point of the matter—has forced the member banks to draw funds away from the regional institutions.

Member bank borrowings since last January have risen $21,600,000. But, just as good, if not better, arguments can be made to show that a change in the bank rate now is unadvisable. At a time when all of the machinery of the Federal Reserve System and the government is being used to revive business, it would be unwise to do anything that might further depress the market. A move to raise the bank rate would make funds dearer for the market and make them dearer for industry. And then, too, a severe shock in the market might discourage business at a time when it needs encouragement.

In a more indirect sense an increase to 4 1/2 or 5 per cent in the discount rate would tend to encourage a reversal of the gold flow—and that certainly the Federal Reserve System does not want. Finding itself thus in a somewhat of a dilemma the Federal Reserve System for the moment is likely to give consideration to Secretary Mellon's desire to refund the government's September maturities. Other things being equal, the system would prefer to aid rather than handicap him in that program.

by Harry Carr

CHICAGO'S YELL FOR HELP

No matter how terrible election day might have been in Chicago, it was better than the surrender of the sovereign power of the city government. After all, the government of the United States was founded upon a certain logical principle which is not to be heaved overboard every time the respectable people of Chicago get disgusted with the police.

NEW YORK'S ORDEAL

New York at one stage of her career went through this same Chicago experience—during the days of Boss Tweed there were many election "repeaters" that there were sometimes more voters than the entire population of the burg.

Presumably they should just giggle and leave her to the villain.

The crystal clear color tells how good it is

"You can tell how good anything is to eat, by its color"... A rule of thumb test, perhaps, but what housewife doesn't instinctively apply it?

Certainly, it is one of the reasons why Wesson Oil has become such a general favorite for salad dressing. The crystal clear, pale straw color of it tells you instantly what it is—a notably pure and wholesome salad oil.

Indeed, Wesson Oil is made from the finest oil obtainable and refined until just the pure nourishing food part of it is left. It's so good to eat that you can use it plain, if you like, on salad or vegetables... And it is exquisitely delicate in flavor.

Of course, it makes quite the most delicious French Dressing imaginable. And blends perfectly with those other ingredients that go to make this delightful dressing so piquant an addition to your salad...

Incidentally, thousands of modern women are using Wesson Oil for frying and for baking. It's very convenient—and you can easily understand why it makes food taste better.

Beans really baked—the Heinz kind of tomato sauce—a bit of choicest pork.

If anything more could be done for flavor, Heinz would do it.

The label says "Oven-Baked" because the beans are baked in ovens.

DIET
ADVICE
By Frank M. Cox

up on the body until the whole body has been wet for five or ten seconds. There is no advantage in taking a long bath even if it is a shower. The body should be dried vigorously with a coarse towel, and the skin made to glow under the effect of the rubbing.

Another good time of the day to take a shower bath is late in the afternoon, before dinner time. It is always a good plan to take some vigorous physical exercise prior to the shower, as this will increase the circulation and open up the pores which are then to be washed by the flowing shower bath. If you are ever going to use warm water, take your warm shower just before retiring, when it will set the system at ease, and tend to relax the nervous system.

The only danger in taking too many baths is that you are apt to have too many tub baths, especially of warm water. It is almost impossible to take too many of the shower baths, which are so much to be recommended.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question: Mary J. asks: "What causes hard skin around the fingers? How may I stop this? Also, what is the cause of the itching skin? It is not in the hands but in the fingers and it is very annoying."

Answer: There is a natural hardening of skin around the fingers. This is made tougher if it is trimmed or clipped during the manicure. Lime water is used to clean the hands, and, consequently, the skin is made dry. A good remedy is to use a solution of one part of glycerine to four parts of water. Rub this into the skin after the manicure. It will keep the skin soft and prevent the itching.

CHINESE POTATO STEAK

YOUR BABY AND MINE

SOURD MILK AND BUTTERMILK IN INFANT FEEDING

Among the forward strides taken by authorities in infant feeding is the use of sourd milk. This is a milk which has been fermented by lactic acid bacteria. It is well for mothers to know now that they may use even if they still prefer the sweet milk.

Whole sweet milk which contains the usual percentage of fat is having difficulty digesting even in the child who has no bowels movements when taking sweet milk. The child who has too many bowel movements when taking sweet milk has gas and distention. The child who has too many bowel movements when taking sourd milk has no gas and distention. It is possible to give a child a more concentrated feeding of sourd milk than of sweet milk which needs much dilution. Children whose stomachs are incapable of holding as much in quantity as a feeding as is necessary to nourish them, can take the same amount of nourishment in a smaller quantity of sourd milk without the use of so much water.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

Washed air will be a feature of the new Schaber Cafeteria, at 620 South Broadway, which opens soon, according to Alfred T. Schaber, president. "In the old days, people who provided the public with that first of all essentials, food, thought they were doing quite well when they washed the dishes. But today, in the new Schaber Cafeteria on Broadway between Sixth and Seventh streets, has been installed a Sturtevant air washer which purifies every cubic foot of air."

PRICES SLASHED

Noted for its large variety of sea foods and Elus Plate Lunches, the management of the Marine Cafe located on Spring street, near Sixth street, announced a slash in all prices and the daily feature of a moderately priced merchant's lunch. "We are making a drive for new customers," the manager stated, "and we are making a drive for new customers."

DAILY SPECIALS

Tail's Coffee Shop, located on Broadway, near Fifth street, is featuring daily specials of unusually low prices. Mass buying coupled with mass selling is the plan whereby the management hopes to maintain the price reduction policy. This popular cafe is noted for its high quality of food and service.

The LAST WORD
By ALMA WHITAKER

THE PHILOSOPHIC BARBER

I always hear something interesting when I go down to get my hair cut. Our barber is quite a student, and reads all sorts of queer magazines, and believes quite ardently in astrology.

Today he told me about a young man whose fortune had suddenly changed for the better, after "seven years' bad luck."

"You see, there were conditions in the firmament which boded him ill," explained the barber between clips. "No effort of his seemed any use, because his star was in eclipse. So far seven years he worked and tried, but everything went against him. Once his arm went broke and he was done out of six weeks' wages. He made a little investment in which a friend had made $250 the month before. But conditions promptly changed and all he had was tied up in it. He secured a small contract to build a retaining wall—and a flood came and washed it all out before it was completed, so that he got no profit whatever out of the job. The young fellow was in despair, everything he touched went dead on his hands."

Hills Bros' principle of roasting coffee agrees with the important rule in making biscuits

The biscuit dough will be light and spongy—"just right." If the liquid is added to the flour a little at a time. Since Hills Bros. Coffee is roasted a few pounds at a time by their patented, continuous process, a uniform flavor is secured that has no equal in richness, aroma and strength.

This process of Controlled Roasting is Hills Bros' exclusively. No other coffee is roasted the same way and no other coffee can taste like Hills Bros. Ask for it by name and look for the Arab on the can. Hills Bros. originated the vacuum pack for coffee. Write for free copy of "The Art of Entertaining." Responsibility for St. Francis Dam Disaster Placed With Water Board

COLLAPSE DECLARED DUE TO ENGINEERING ERROR

Coroner's Verdict Finds Foundation Built on Inferior Structure; More Safeguards Urged

In concluding its work follows: "We congratulate the county of Los Angeles on having such an efficient, painstaking and patient Coroner and staff as Frank A. Nance and deputies, also we express appreciation of the efficient and courteous co-operation of Dep. Dist. Atty. Dennison, the Sheriff's deputies and the attorneys representing the city of Los Angeles in the case of the St. Francis dam disaster for their faithful and untiring efforts in assisting the jury in unearthing all facts pertaining thereto."

VERDICT OF JURY

The verdict, except for its formal preliminary, follows in full:

"The St. Francis Dam was defective due to the very poor quality of the underlying rock structure upon which it was built and to the fact that the design of the dam was not suited to inferior foundation conditions. The actual failure was caused either wholly or in part by these defects.

"The construction of this dam, without having the design and engineering judgment of independent engineers and geologists, and without more thorough and systematic methods of design, supervision and inspection, involved two basic errors.

"One of these was an error in engineering judgment in determining the character of the foundations at the St. Francis Dam site and deciding upon the best type of dam to build there.

"The other was an error, in regard to fundamental policy relating to public safety.

FIX RESPONSIBILITY

"The responsibility for the error in engineering judgment rests upon the Bureau of Water Works and Supply, and the chief engineer thereof.

"The responsibility for the error in public policy belongs to those to whom the chief engineer is subordinate, including the Department of Water and Power Commissioners, the legislative bodies of city and state, and to the public at large.

"It is a logical result of a set of conditions that the citizenship has allowed to develop and continue. This is the more fundamental error, for if proper safeguards had been provided in the city charter and in the state laws, making it impossible for excessive responsibility to be delegated to or assumed by any one individual in matters involving great menaces to public safety, it is unlikely that the engineering error would have developed and produced a great disaster.

"A sound policy of public safety and business engineering judgment demands that the construction and operation of a great dam should never be left to the sole judgment of one man, no matter how eminent, without check by independent expert authority, for no one is free from error, and checking by independent experts will eliminate the effect of human error and insure safety.

URGES CORRECTION

"The exemption of municipalities from supervision by state authorities in the building of dams involving public hazards is a very serious defect of the state law that should be corrected.

"We respectfully recommend:

"That the regulations governing the conduct of all municipal and county bodies engaged in building and operating dams be revised so that the construction and operation of all such dams will be subject to review by competent experts in the building of dams involving public hazards. It should not be left to the discretion of the engineer of such a body to submit such matters to experts, but should be mandatory upon the highest executive authority to employ independent competent consultants that will not be subservient to the chief engineer.

"That steps be taken to the end that all existing dams be thoroughly examined as to their safety by a board or boards of outstanding experts in the building of dams involving public hazards, and that the state law so as to place the building of municipal and county, as well as privately owned dams, under the jurisdiction of the state authorities.

"The intent and effect of these measures would be to have three independent groups of experts pass judgment upon the design, construction and operations of dams and other structures which might involve hazards to public safety.

NO CRIMINAL ACT

"We find no evidence of criminal act or intent on the part of the board of water works and supply of the city of Los Angeles, or any engineer or employee in the construction or operation of the St. Francis Dam, and we recommend that there be no criminal prosecution of any of the above by the District Attorney.

"The destruction of this dam was caused wholly or in part by the failure of the rock formations upon which it was built and not by any error in the design of section of the dam itself or defect in the materials of which the dam was constructed. The gravity section section of the dam was built with standard practice and would have produced a safe structure if it had been built upon hard, impervious rock, as was supposed to be the case by those who built it.

"On account of the great destruction wrought by the disaster and the absence of living witnesses from the immediate vicinity bearing on the cause of failure was obliterated, making it impossible to determine, with any approach to accuracy, the exact cause of the initial break and the sequence of events thereafter.

"However, there remains a large amount of very convincing evidence of a number of vital weaknesses in the bedrock and in the design with reference to its adaptability to a weak bedrock, any one of which weaknesses may have been the primary cause of the failure, and all did contribute to the catastrophe.

DEFECTS LISTED

"The dam was in a defective condition due to the following:

"First: The dam was built upon two formations meeting at a fault contact, which naturally caused a line of weakness across the axis of the dam.

"Second: The schist upon which about two-thirds of the mass of the main dam rested, is a weak material, badly shattered, very susceptible to seepage of water, and to slippage along the planes of cleavage.

"Third: The dip and strike of the planes of cleavage of the schist were at very unfavorable angles to the reference to the lines of pressure of the dam and very favorable for landslides on the east wall of the site of the dam.

"Fourth: The conglomerate upon which the western portion of the dam was built is variable in structure, badly fractured and very deficient in bonding material. While it has the appearance of rock when dry, it is weak in compressive strength and, when saturated with water it disintegrates into a slippery mass of clay, sand, small pebbles and other included materials.

"Fifth: Gouge materials at the contact between the two formations were inferior in strength to either of the two principal formations, causing a zone of weakness that can always be expected at such contacts.

ANOTHER FAULT

"Sixth: In addition to the contact fault there is another fault crossing the dam transversely and intersecting the contact fault about 150 feet downstream from the toe of the dam.

"Seventh: The dam was not carried far enough into the bedrock, and had no cutoff walls.

"Eighth: There was no reinforcement or blanketing in concrete at the contact between the dam and the rock abutments, as is usual where the formations are not of the same kind, and the grooving of the bedrock was done.

"Ninth: The dam was not provided with inspection tunnels with adequate openings for the purpose of locating any leakage and grouting it off if necessary, the only drainage installed were confined to the center section and connected to one manifold and outlet, making it impossible to locate leaks.

"Tenth: The dam was built without predetermined expansion joints. This is a logical result of a set of conditions that the citizenship has allowed to develop and continue. This is the more fundamental error, for if proper safeguards had been provided in the city charter and in the state laws, making it impossible for excessive responsibility to be delegated to or assumed by any one individual in matters involving great menaces to public safety, it is unlikely that the engineering error would have developed and produced a great disaster.

"A sound policy of public safety and business engineering judgment demands that the construction and operation of a great dam should never be left to the sole judgment of one man, no matter how eminent, without check by independent expert authority, for no one is free from error, and checking by independent experts will eliminate the effect of human error and insure safety.

TESTS INADEQUATE

"The exploration work and testing of foundation materials prior to reaching a decision to build a dam at this site were entirely inadequate to determine the true qualities of the bedrock and the proper type of dam to build at the site.

"The exploration work both before and during construction was practically limited to the boundaries of the concrete structure and did not extend to the reservoir, topography and character of the bedrock structure beyond these boundaries.

"The inspection of the work during construction was very limited and defective in principle, owing to the fact that the inspections were made by the same people who were directing or doing the work, without adequate check inspection by an independent personnel to reduce the effect of personal error.

"Extensive exploration work, inspection and testing of materials and consultation with experts would have revealed the true character of the site and prevented this calamity.

"Even though the failure of the dam was either caused by or greatly assisted by saturation of the foundation materials with water from the reservoir, the total leakage that was observed at any time up to within a few hours of the failure was remarkably small, and is commonly present in dams that are considered safe and have stood for years.

SEEPAGE CLEAR

"There had been reports by subordinates and others who claimed to have observed increased leakage and muddy water coming from the dam a few days before the failure. In consequence of these reports the chief engineer and his principal assistants inspected the dam about twelve hours before the failure and found that the water was coming out clear, but picking up surface soil in flowing from the points of first appearance to the afterbay pool below the dam. This agrees with the testimony of all witnesses who made observations at sufficiently close range to see the water where it first emerged from the ground.

"The amount of leakage and character were not such as to cause apprehension of those in charge of the dam as to the safety of the dam structure. It was in the nature of a seepage, and it was concluded that the dam was in danger of destruction, but only safety measure possible at that time would have been to warn everyone in the possible path of the flow to move to higher ground with gates wide open, it would have taken many days to have drawn the water low enough to remove the danger.

"There is ample evidence to show that no alarming symptoms were observed up to within thirty minutes of the final break, and that the entire destruction of the dam was completed in a very few minutes.

RELIED ON CHIEF

"The entire personnel of the Department of Water Works and Supply and the Department of Water and Power Commissioners, who

WATER-RATE BOOST FOR DAM DAMAGES PREVENTED

The Women's Political League yesterday protested to the City Council against any boost in water rates to raise the money needed to meet the liability caused by the collapse of the St. Francis Dam.

The league suggested that the money be raised by the city using the surplus and uncollected money in the water bonds and power departments and any other unused surplus before an attempt is made to increase water rates.

WORK ON PACOIMA DAM HALTED FOR INQUIRY

PACOIMA, April 12.—E. C. Eaton, chief flood-control engineer, stated here today that work on Pacoima Dam in the San Gabriel Valley will be halted until a study of the rock formations of one of the sides of the dam is completed.

Nothing that is likely to be present in a real trial for murder is being neglected, and with guns, photographs, specimens of handwriting and other matters requiring the attention of experts of various sorts, the embryo lawyers are getting a thorough practical working of the case.

It will be a matter of three or four weeks before the trial ends, according to C. E. R. Palmer, professor of trial practice at Loyola College.

The jury, a mixed one, volunteered its services. The members are from other schools, and none has a knowledge of law. Two associate jurors are being used in addition to the regular twelve on account of the length of the case.

Michael O'Day, the defendant, is being represented by J. F. Irvin, Attorney for the prosecution are W. D. Gilman, William Cronin and M. Garrison. R. Sullivan, E. Gerhart and Paul O'Brien are handling the defense. H. B. Lloyd, regular bailiff of Division Seven, who is also a law student, is acting as bailiff.

FINDINGS MADE BY GEOLOGISTS

The report, filed yesterday, also said:

DAM ITSELF STRONG

"Our preliminary investigations partly revealed the fact that the action was not due primarily to weakness in the structure itself, and that the cause of failure must be sought in the foundation condition. In our investigation and studies we have not attempted to determine the detailed manner in which the failure occurred.

"The concrete in the dam was sound and its strength as shown by examination and tests was sufficient for the purpose intended. Failure under the above conditions could result only from destruction of foundation which supported the dam.

FOUNDATION WEAKER

"It was clearly apparent early in our studies that the foundation rock upon which the dam stood was weaker and less able to support the load upon it than the material of the dam itself.

"The foundation of the dam consists of a mica schist, which extends from the eastern abutment across the stream and about 100 feet up the slope under the western abutment. Above the schist under the dam is a layer of conglomerate, which is a mixture of boulders, cobbles and pebbles set in a matrix of rudely stratified sand and clay. At the contact between the schist and conglomerate is a fissure filled with gouge (clay produced by rock movement).

"The weakness of the foundation on the eastern side is of a different character and less apparent than that of the western side. The schist layers lying parallel to the steep slope of the canyon are poised ready for sliding and any loosening of these slopes increases the resistance of the rock against such motion. Any leakage occurring on the eastern side before the dam failed would have weakened the foundation and increased the tendency to slide."

Cinema Party Due Back From South Sea Isles

Completing probably one of the most difficult location trips ever undertaken by a motion-picture company, Monte Bill, W. S. Van Dyke and sixty members of a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer company are scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles tomorrow after five months on the South Sea Islands.

The company left here November 28, 1937, and has been in the southern hemisphere since then. They visited many islands on which white men never before set foot and encountered some of the most primitive climates, hurricanes and many other dangers of the country.

While on the island, the company built a complete film studio for developing, printing and projecting the scenes taken. Special living quarters also were built. The only people taken by whites were assumed by Blue and Robert Anderson, the rest of the cast being natives. In Pacifica Canyon, Torres and Rena Bush of Hollywood, were also in the cast. The company arrives today in San Francisco at the S. B. Makara. Van Dyke directed.

Tom Liddecoat Again to Go on Operating Table

Brother Tom Liddecoat was ordered back to the California Lutheran Hospital yesterday for another slight operation which will keep him confined there for several days.

No location has yet been found for the Midnight Mission, which was ordered to move from its present address to 12th and Broadway street the first of this month. Brother Tom, who has this additional worry as well as his illness and is calling on his friends to help in finding a new home for the mission. From 1000 to 1500 persons are being fed at the Midnight Mission every day. There are men and women who are without work, friends or money.

Goldwyn Home From Overseas

Samuel Goldwyn returned to Hollywood yesterday from a trip abroad and his first act was to approve plans for the largest production schedule in his career. He is to make two pictures this year as compared to three last year. These involve an expenditure of approximately $4,000,000.

While in Europe in search of new talent, Goldwyn signed Walter Huston, an English actor, to play opposite Vilma Banky in roles as long assumed by Ronald Colman. Goldwyn also announced he is negotiating with the friends of Lili Damitt, German actress.

Production, Goldwyn stated, will start shortly on Miss Banky's next picture as well as on Colman's first picture. Goldwyn now is occupying his new offices arranged for him by the Artists Studio by Joseph M. Schenck.

Oriental Loses Occidental Garb

Appearing minus all his clothing except his trousers, Nobu Yanguchi, 26 years of age, 1421 West Thirty-sixth Place, told detectives yesterday of having been drugged by two young men who took him into the Baldwin Hills and escaped with his garments and "get up." He was found in a gully in the hills late yesterday, and discovering his near-nudity reported the situation to police.

Law Students of Loyola College Hold Mock Trial

Blakes presiding, the senior law class of Loyola College last night put on the first section of the trial of Michael O'Day for hypothetical murder in Division Seven of the Municipal Court. The mock court trial will be continued next Thursday at the same hour, 7 to 9 p.m.

Nothing that is likely to be present in a real trial for murder is being neglected, and with guns, photographs, specimens of handwriting and other matters requiring the attention of experts of various sorts, the embryo lawyers are getting a thorough practical working of the case.

It will be a matter of three or four weeks before the trial ends, according to C. E. R. Palmer, professor of trial practice at Loyola College.

The jury, a mixed one, volunteered its services. The members are from other schools, and none has a knowledge of law. Two associate jurors are being used in addition to the regular twelve on account of the length of the case.

Michael O'Day, the defendant, is being represented by J. F. Irvin, Attorney for the prosecution are W. D. Gilman, William Cronin and M. Garrison. R. Sullivan, E. Gerhart and Paul O'Brien are handling the defense. H. B. Lloyd, regular bailiff of Division Seven, who is also a law student, is acting as bailiff.

Girl Wins Manual Arts High School Contest

San Diego Withdraws from Elimination Meet

Five boys, three of them seniors and two juniors, have been chosen from twenty-two contestants to compete in the district finals of the Fifth National Oratorical Contest to be held at Alhambra High School Monday.

The elimination contest, in which the student orators took part, concluded yesterday afternoon under the direction of Miss Veda R. Walker, head of the contest.

part of public speaking at Alhambra High School, and her assistant, Miss Lillian Kammeyer. The five chosen to enter the finals are Billy Tobias, 18 years of age, a junior; Norman Waksman, 17, junior; Byron Magee, 17, senior; William Grimes, 16, senior, and Richard Keller, 18, senior.

TWO COMPETED LAST YEAR

Magee and Keller are two of the outstanding debaters in the district. The former won second place in the district last year, while the latter placed third. The previous year Keller took second place in the district try-out.

Grimes and Tobias have each won a state championship in debating for two years, while Waksman has had but one year's experience.

To the winner of the district contest, Monday the Alhambra Chamber of Commerce will present a prize of $20. The Home Furniture Company will present a second prize of $10 to the student placing second, and the Alhambra Post-Advocate and H. E. Wellman, jeweler, will each present a prize of $5 to the students winning fourth and fifth places. These prizes will be in addition to the $20 cash prize to the first place in each district by the Times.

GIRL DEFEATS BOYS

Defeating the seven boys pitted against her in the district finals at Manual Arts High School, Miss Cheryl Chenery, of the Alhambra, won the right to represent Manual Arts in the all-city group contest to be held at Franklin High School the evening of the 26th inst. Four of her opponents, including the victory of the Alhambra, Edna Matheson, of Jefferson, and Jeanette Tynes of Polytechnic. There will be only two boys in the contest, Abraham Goldstein, of Franklin, and Rudolf Schiack of Hollywood.

More than a thousand Manual Arts students attended the assembly, at which the orators were given and cheered the victory of Miss Chenery. Her oration, "The People and the City," was said by the judges to have been admirably presented.

Second place was won by Robert Page and third by Robert Zimler.

The judges were Arthur W. Long, secretary and a general manager of the Chamber of Commerce; Attorney Jack Lemar Cobb and David Blankenbush, president of the David B. Blankenbush Corporation.

The withdrawal of San Diego High School from the elimination meet in Orange, A. to be held at Pacific High School next Friday evening, was announced yesterday. That will leave seven schools in the contest. The schools are: Alhambra, Pasadena; Willis De Free, Oceanide-Carlsbad Union High School; Evelyn Pope, El Centro; Odie Lloyd, Beaumont; Thomas Kuchel, Anaheim, and Judith Gunt, San Bernardino. Riverside county representative will be named today.

In order to permit Kuchel to take part in the contest, the senior play, in which he has an important role, will be presented next Monday night. Tuesday, it was scheduled to have been staged on the 26th inst., the night of the oratorical contest.

Substitution of Acacia Schenck for Leona Stiel, as one of the George Washington High School's representatives in the district contest, was announced yesterday. The other schools that will enter contestants are East Rock and Garfield.

KHJ STUDIO HAS SIXTH BIRTHDAY

Don Lee Station Will Have Anniversary Today

Dedication Next Month to Be Main Celebration

Celeste Ryan Feels Pulse of Radio Audience

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER
Six years old today, KHJ is getting to be quite a grown-up youngster. Its life has been an eventful one with prospect for plenty more activity in the coming year.

The station has progressed in varying degrees and for five years and seven months was owned by The Times. For the past five months it has been under the supervision of Don Lee, its new owner.

I am told that nothing extraordinary has been prepared for the birthday celebration but, instead, all efforts will be exerted on the special dedication program when the new studio and the 1000-watt set begin to function, probably early next month.

CHANGES IN HOURS

Quite a number of schedule changes are announced from KHJ effective early this morning. The afternoon half-hour musical appreciation given by Celeste Ryan has been changed to 10:30 a.m. except on Sundays and Mondays, and concert soloists from the studio staff will fill the 2 p.m. time, except on Sundays, with solo work.

The 2:30 week-day time is open Mondays and Tuesdays, while on Wednesdays it will be the public library talk; Thursdays, the song review by Baron Keyes; Fridays, the theater talk of Florence Dobson, and on Saturdays, Art Pabst with his banjo tunes.

Other studio hours will be given substantially as under the present time-table hours.

MORNING PROGRAM

The time for the musical appreciation chais and demonstrations were changed to the morning hour at the request of the members of the radio audience who believe that the morning hour reaches many more than the afternoon time.

Miss Ryan asked for a questionnaire over a period of two weeks and the change is made as a direct result of the wishes of fans.

The musical appreciation program features brief musical jingles to the homes of various composers and the scenes of their triumphs.

Various instrumentalists of the studio concert ensemble are drafted at various times to assist in illustrating the topic at hand. Miss Ryan demonstrates many of the subjects with piano numbers, while chamber combinations and orchestral instruments are used in others.

FEATURED TALENT

Again the echoes of the radio feature will be the 9 p.m. program of the Don Lee station through the studio microphones.

Previous hours have been given by the mixed studio quartet which this week, however, gives way to the Gemut male quartet.

The vocal diversity has been one of the hits of studio life locally and is but one more reason why stations ought to run special features at the same time from week to week.

"An hour in memory lane" used to be the most popular offering of the orange network. As time went on, the hour was switched around from week to week, finally it was allowed to a half-hour, and now over that bit of old-time melody through the chain system is not on the KFI musical bill of fare and local fans must wait the dial in an attempt to get it over KGO.

RADIO DISTURBANCES

CABLE COMPANIES

WASHINGTON, April 12. (UP)—The two recent mergers of telegraph and radio companies is indicative to radio men and other observers here of realization by the cable owners that radio has become a formidable communications competitor.

Position of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company and the British Eastern Telegraph Company and associated enterprises is also seen as a move in line with the British government's policy of maintaining an important position in world-wide communication. Mergers of the Mackay telegraph and radio properties with the International Telephone and Telegraph Company is regarded as doubly significant recognition of the increasing value of radio in transoceanic service.

WIFE FAILS TO OUST HUSBAND

Court Permits Him to Live In His Own Home Pending Suit

Albert L. Wilson and his wife, Mary Wilson, are getting along "just fine," he says.

"She has not spoken to me for months," he testified yesterday before Judge Bowen in Superior Court.

The two were before the court on Mrs. Wilson's application for an order to require Wilson to move out of their home-avenue home pending trial of her suit for divorce.

In view of Wilson's report, his statement that he had no place else to go, and certain phases of the law Judge Bowen ruled he might continue to live in his own home.

BILL BOYD LEARNING NEW TRADE

Star Will Be Reservoir Dam Worker in New Picture; Mary Brian to Share Honors With Clive Brook; Walter Butler Will Change His Name

Running the gamut of home-working-man roles is what William Boyd, Pathe-De Mille star, seems to be doing these days.

He should be a very useful citizen by the time he gets through it, he learns all about the different trades he has been dipping into for screen purposes.

He was an engineer in "The Night Flyer," a steel riveter in "A Cop in '32," and there wouldn't seem to be many more spectacular trades for him to follow, except perhaps those of a "white wings" on the street, a window cleaner in a thirty-story building or janitor to a flock of whistling buys.

However, Pathe-De Mille officials have thought of a new one for him. This is nothing less than the role of a worker on a large reservoir in a picture tentatively called "Power," which Howard Higgin will direct, and for which he, in collaboration with Tay Garnett, wrote the story. And we are earnestly anxious that the dam does not burst!

Jacqueline Logan and also Hale will be featured with Boyd in the new picture, thus again forming the trio that was seen in "The Cop." Work is to be commenced at once.

There is a possibility that Boyd will be loaned to United Artists for "La Palmyre," but even in that case he will be able to act in "Power" first.
